Jisc Monitor Workshop	19th September	N/A

This is Jisc Monitor workshop | Jisc London Offices: 5, Brettenham house, Lancaster Place, London, WC2E 7EN www.jisc.ac.uk/contact | Jisc Monitor is a one-year project, which started in May 2014, to explore how a Jisc managed shared service might support institutions in meeting HEFCE Open Access policy. The project is currently scoping proof of concept prototypes to respond to specific use cases, and these will be used to assess the feasibility of, and priorities for, developing a service. Our second areas of focus will be on the challenges of monitoring total spend for Open Access and Standards Development to enable efficient data exchange.

The purpose of the second workshop is again to inform the project's work by going further in capturing institutional requirements, identifying common ground and exploring variances in practice. We intend this to be an integral part of the continuing process of user engagement in the project, with optional opportunities for attendees again to attend subsequent online reviews to test and provide feedback on aspects of the project's outputs as they are in development. | http://jiscmonitor.jiscinvolve.org/wp/ | N/A | This workshop is now sold out |
| Practical approaches to implementation of HEFCE OA policy workshop | 26th September | N/A

This is a Jisc workshop in association with ARMA, RLUK and SCONUL

http://www.etcvenues.co.uk/files/download/victoria- | etc venues, One Drummond Gate, Victoria, London SW1V 2QQ | The new OA requirements for the post-2014 REF present a number of implementation challenges for universities, for example by introducing a new point of intervention - the point at which a paper is accepted by a journal or published conference series. Compliance with the policy implies new patterns of working and changes to workflows and processes, that might require action by the library, research office and academic departments. | http://openaccess.jiscinvolve.org/wp/events/practical-approaches-to-the-implementation-of-hefce-oa-policy-workshop/ | http://www.eventbrite.com/e/workshop-practical-approaches-to-implementation-of-hefces-oa-policy-tickets- | This workshop is now sold out |

			directions/38	This one-day workshop will explore the policy and its implications for universities, as well as facilitating information sharing and considering how it can best be implemented by HEIs. The workshop is aimed at those who have primary responsibility for influencing and implementing open access policy within their institution and will aim to help decision-makers consider the implications of practical methods / workflow options for OA implementation at a strategic level e.g. effects on resource allocation, institutional policies etc.		12220615189
